'MEAN TO' NOT ENOUGH....

"Mean to" and "me too" are simply not enough in any field, but particularly in publishing.

Your Herald's editors and business heads have been studying another entry into the five-county Central Texas market carved out by our 10,000-plus Herald on call.

It looks good. But it is taking time. We need layout and sales help. Staff now is committed to projects within the framework of the twice-weekly Herald and periodic 10,000-plus program.

In fact, Herald staffers are looking to combination efforts of print-electronic news service of yet another project that one day may dazzle the print world. I am scheduled to speak on this subject in October before the National Newspaper Association in Houston with a man with a Phd and research orientation said to be beyond anything anybody is looking at in the publishing world of today. His name is Ahlauer.

Herald circulation efforts are turned to getting Yoe High School's hand the tremendous response they deserve for funding special trips, contests and projects. It is going to be a considerable success because Cameron loves this band and this band loves to perform for Jerry Bartley, the director.

Where is this coming from? Why is it happening?

It started with market analysis of this area while your Herald was still a weekly in 1969. Things were coming out of limbo that summer, the downtown project now known as Cameron Mall was shaping on paper and in necessity.

Your Herald studied community and area retail sales and decided: Texas Almanac says Milam County retail sales are more than $21 million, enough for another edition in Cameron and the Milam area. Technology sent the first manned space craft to the moon in July, 1969. Your Herald needed computerization and semi-weekly. Your Herald did both.

That done, your Herald began studying feasibility of further development in 1971. What does it take to go beyond semi- or twice-weekly?

Answers came in the March 20, 1971, Publishers Auxiliary.

Market analysis nationwide among publishers going more than twice-weekly found this, and I quote: "A daily publication required at least $50 million to $60 million in retail sales in the market..... the step called for at least 10,000 population in the core community."

Cameron met neither of these basics. So we stayed with semi-weekly and went regional in distribution and circulation. Result in 1977 is the 10,000-plus Herald on call which reached 15 communities in five counties all but ignored by dailies in Central Texas, who despite total circulation figures, cannot touch Herald penetration in this five-county market. It is fact.

Your Herald analyzes everything. Analysis shows retail sales in the whole of Milam County are now, according to the 1976-77 Texas Almanac, about $30.5 millions, hardly half of a daily newspaper base. Cameron annual retail sales are about $13 millions.

So your Herald considers a specialized entry into Milam area publications, and the possibility of an experimental publication to test market reaction.

We look to electronics and heightened quality. We look to broader appeal, realizing that politics are not as heated nor as provincial in Central Texas as once they were.

Most of all, we know it is a real world we live in and the real world expects service and competence, ideas and daring, strength and economy, which also most of all, must work.

One-Way Traffic In Effect At Harl Creek Bridge

Delton A. Kittrell, supervising resident engineer, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation announced today that work is progressing satisfactorily on the new bridge across Harl Creek on FM 485.

Traffic will be limited to One Way beginning this week, stated Kittrell. He cautioned all drivers to be extremely careful when traveling this section of road. Signs and barricades will be used to direct traffic.

This One Way condition will be in effect for approximately four months.

On County Budget Hearing Draws Questions

Milam County Commissioners approved a 1978 budget as presented Monday morning, which will be officially adopted on Sept. 12, without making any changes in the proposals.

The general fund budget was set at $408,331.10 which includes $124-614.10 receipts from ad valorem taxes. The budget for the road and bridge fund is set at $151,116.56, with $90,000 coming from taxes.

Commissioners and County Judge O.B. Harden were closely questioned on the budget by several members of the Committee for County Improvement, and by Reeves Brown, county rancher and member of the Milam County Farm Bureau.

LESS INCOME

County auditor John Andres said county income would be no greater than last year's, and could be less since veterans are exempt and older people have a $3000 homestead exemption.

Brown asked about income from minerals, and Harden said the $2 million increase in valuations would only produce about $19,000 in added revenue. He also said that by law, 56 percent of this must go in the road and bridge fund.

Asked about revenue sharing, Harden estimated that the county receives about $155,000 a year. A hearing on the revenue sharing budget was set for Sept. 12, when a request from the City of Cameron for an increase from $800 to $2400 for rural fire protection will be considered. Also on the agenda will be a request from the county extension office for an increase of $20 a month travel expense for extension personnel.

Julius Harwell, member of the Committee, asked how much money the county has in banks at this time, and Harden said $505,000 including $45,000 in revenue sharing funds.

REVENUE SHARING FUNDS

Miss Mildred Thornton asked what revenue sharing funds are spent for, and Harden said they have been spent for road and bridge equipment, building a new tax office and jail, renovation of the courthouse, and donations to the county museum and the youth exposition building.

He said senior citizens and their organizations will be asked to the hearing to provide input on needs which could be met with these funds. He said so far the county has not spent any on senior citizens or on ethnic groups.

Harwell said he didn't believe

Farmers Plan Tractor Ride For Labor Day

Over 50 farmers from Milam, Falls and Bell counties met in Rogers last Monday night and agreed to participate in a tractor trailride on Labor Day.

The riders will meet at 10 that morning at Cou Falls Equipment Co. and R.T. Wells Farm Equipment Service at Temple on Hwy. 36 and 95. They will then head for the Temple livestock barn.

They urge all farmers to participate in the trailride to protest low prices versus high production costs. More information may be had by calling Lonnie Dodd at 583-4134 or Mike Mayfield at 642-3227.

a general budget could be prepared accurately by one man without consulting elected officials on the needs of each department. He also said tax assessor-collector Valter White should attend budget hearings, since he was the one who provided the money.

Harden said the county has no choice but to have a re-evaluation on property and put unlisted property on the tax rolls. Then, he added, the budgets could be brought in, the general budget drawn up, and commissioners could then set the percentage of values to balance the budget.

CRITICISM PROBABLE

Harden said it would take the interest and support of the people for implementing the program, since the commissioners would probably be criticized for any increase in taxes.

Harwell said that if all unlisted property was put on the roll, it was possible that a tax increase would not be necessary.

Harwell then asked about a statement that a salary increase for one would not be fair. He said some employees are underpaid while some departments are "overstocked."

LaVert McKinney said there was "no difference," that it takes a machine operator a year to learn his job. He said in answer to Harwell's contention that the county did not want its deputies on food stamps, that some of his employees have to receive food stamps to get along.

Harwell said the deputies needed a "living income," but McKinney repeated that he feels it is wrong to raise some salaries and not all.

Harwell asked how the county set up a budget using figures from three years ago in view of inflation. Harden said the county was behind on re-evaluation and had made a mistake in not starting it earlier.

$10,000 TOO MUCH?

Commissioners voted approval for a rental-purchase contract for a crawler-loader for Pct. 4, at a cost of $53,000. Harwell asked why the county did not take bids on the machine, and was told it was not necessary on a rental-purchase contract.

"How do you know you're not paying $10,000 too much?" Harwell asked.

5 Hurt When Vehicle Flips Over 3 Times

Five persons were injured in a one-car accident at 4:55 p.m. Monday when a spring apparently popped off the right rear of the car, causing it to go out of control and flip over.

Most seriously injured was Daniel Hanley of New York State, a passenger in the car driven by his wife, Marguerite Hanley. He suffered a broken pelvis and was transferred from a Hearne hospital to Darnall Hospital at Fort Hood.

Minor injuries were sustained by the driver and other passengers, identified as Richard Veadar, his wife Patricia and daughter Danielle.

The vehicle was west bound on Highway 79 four and a half miles east of Gause when it went out of control and flipped over three times, according to DPS Trooper Gary Henderson of Hearne.

'Leader' Was New Role For Junior Marek

By Lois Sapp

Part 2 of a 3 Part Series

Waiting, still waiting. Edwin Marek Jr. has time. More time to reminisce.

It was the summer of 1975. Young Edwin had received his high school diploma. Where to go now? Where could a quadriplegic go to be trained for meaningful employment?

Junior's vivid memory recalled those days when he was trying to get into a college and was told he couldn't make it. State agencies didn't want to "waste" their money on him.

"But Mr. Chubb (high school principal) told me about a college in South Texas and arranged for me to visit," Junior was adding. "Then Mr. Chubb just demanded that I should be given a chance, so eventually Texas Rehabilitation agreed to finance my schooling." The family still had to provide his school supplies and personal needs.

Not only did the young man make it, but he graduated with top honors and completed the two year course in 18 months.

Now, Junior is quick to praise the Jay Cee Campus of Victoria College. At first this was not the case.

"It was way down in the woods, about 5 miles from Gonzales, and I didn't like it at all; but after I was there about two weeks it was alright," he said thoughtfully.

"There were all kinds down there. Some of the students had cerebral palsy, some gunshot wounds, but the majority had diving accidents or car wrecks, like mine," he explained.

"It was good for me to see someone worse off than myself," he spoke frankly. "When I was in Cameron, I had help from all the kids at school. But down there, when I saw all those kids in wheelchairs, well, now I feel like there is always someone worse off than I am. Like, there were two who drove their wheelchairs with their mouths!" he continued his story.

Classrooms at the Jaycee sponsored college were easily accessible for the 30 students attending. The dormitory was upstairs and classrooms were on the main floor of the Spanish style structure.

"Even if we were on stretchers, we had to go to class. They were very strict and the teacher would check if we were not in class. And we had to go to the nearby hospital building for meals, unless we were bed rest and then they would bring a tray.

"We were always helping each other too. Like I was always pretty good in accounting, so at night we would go down to the classrooms and we'd have discussions to help each other. Some of us could write or type and we would make copies of our notes and run them off for the others."

Along with taking all the courses that would give him an accounting major, he worked constantly on his shoulders and arms relearning things that had come so easy for him in his younger years. He learned to feed himself, shave, comb his hair and paint ceramics.

"We made ceramics and sold them to raise money for our student body," he said as he told of the Gonzales Watermelon Thump where they would set up a booth and sell their handmade goods.

Popular with his peers, he was first elected vice president of the student body and the last semester elected president.

Responsibilities came with the honor and on visitation day he was called upon to give the welcoming address. And he was guest speaker at the Fort Worth Summer Jaycee Convention and the Kerrville Jaycee meeting. He had never before given a speech.

He also headed the group of students as they took a petition to the administrator to get permission to turn an old unused building into a recreation center.

"We helped clean it up and turned it into a real nice place," he laughed "and mainly I bossed." He said they had pool, air hockey, shuffle board, a drink machine and a lounge with fireplace and stereo.

For other entertainment they would go to a nearby state park where they could cook, swim and listen to music or go to Gonzales. Some of the students had cars and they would go into town to the show and then eat pizza. The student body talked the owner of the Pizza Hut into putting a ramp at the door so they could come and go as they pleased. The students even paid half the cost of installation.

The compassion these students had for others was revealed in Junior's story about the younger children at the nearby Elks Crippled Childrens Hospital.

"We tried to help entertain the young children by calling bingo and other games for them," he said relating the fond memories of the children who ranged from 1 to 14 years. Using money they had made from the sale of their ceramics, the group would give the younger children Christmas, Halloween and summer parties.

Their need to be helpful was also shown when the Cameron lad was among five students who went to Austin and worked on the Jerry Lewis Telethon last September. They sponsored a Jaycee rest stop and raised about $250 which they also gave to the muscular dystrophy drive.

Showing determined spunk, ten students went five miles each in their motorized wheelchair publicizing the Jaycee meeting they were going to at Kerrville. The students began at Seguin and covered a distance of about 28 miles.

Then, the 18 months were over. It was December 17, 1976. Edwin Marek, Jr. presented the graduation address and then received his Associate in Arts Degree.

A live band played as nine of the original 14 who had started together, enjoyed their final hours together.

Another milestone had been reached. He was leaving his college friends and coming home. Three job interviews awaited him. And he was coming home determined to be helpful to others less fortunate.

But all this was not soon to be realized.

Doing Basic Things...

Pictures of interior improvements in Ada Henderson, O.J. Thomas and Yoe High School struck a major cord.

It is a constructive kind of response to basic needs in these buildings in rest-room, cafeteria and lab areas.

Though your Herald criticizes, your Herald is the first to recognize positive improvement for what it is.

We think the administration is trying to do what can and must be done within the limits of tight school funding. The gymnasium, the fieldhouse and elements of the CISD system are in constant need and in constant improvement by this system.

We have supported bond issues in the past to the absolute of the print media. And these issues of the early 70s failed. But this administration is attempting to maintain and improve facilities which become more expensive to improve or replace as historic inflation takes its inevitable toll.

We congratulate the board and administration in doing these basic things.

Protecting And Serving...

While State Farm Mutual was rebating $17.5 millions in dividends to stockholders, the Texas Insurance Board was announcing a hold on the possibility of new auto insurance increases.

One other national insurance company announced major rebate dividends to stockholders while the question of higher rates roams the nation.

With the 55 mph speed limit, there should be fewer accidents as there have been fewer fatalities.

Apparently, this logic merits its inspection, or otherwise, insurance companies would not be saying higher rates are necessary.

Perhaps State Farm management knows something other companies do not. Maybe the inquiry should be two fold: why an industry is asking higher rates in an environment of fewer fatalities? And why a few companies seem to go unaffected by inflationary costs.

We would bet there are answers which would keep rates near if not at present levels, satisfying government's need to protect consumers and industry's desire to serve them.

Study Predicts Massive Crime Rise

A new Texas Criminal Justice Plan draft sees possibility of an increase in crime so formidable that it could overrun the police and court system.

The two-volume study is awaiting Gov. Dolph Briscoe's review. The governor's Criminal Justice Division advisory board already has approved it. State criminal justice plans must be updated annually to establish eligibility for federal crime-fighting funds.

Data based on FBI uniform crime-reporting data for 1973-75 and Department of Public Safety statistics for most of 1976 project that total index crime in Texas, which has doubled during the last four years, will double again by 1980.

The report points to an 11 per cent increase in murder 1973-76 and calculates the rate may jump 17 per cent by 1980. Rape increased 25 per cent and could increase an additional 31 per cent by 1980, according to computer projections. Burglary increased almost a third and may jump another alarming 42 per cent, the report forecasts. Assaults could decrease 15 per cent. No realistic projection could be made on the robbery rate.

"Taken at face value, the implications of these projections are formidable," the study concludes. "They imply a demand on the already-overburdened criminal justice system that could prove unsurmountable. They imply conditions that could significantly change the lifestyles of Texas citizens. . . . And they imply the failure of major efforts over the past few years to stem the increase in crime. All of these implications are frightening. Some may be valid. But no conclusions can be drawn at this time, because the validity of the statistics on which the projections are based is subject to serious challenge."

While expressing confidence in the 1976 DPS statistics, writers of the report acknowledge earlier data is "questionable at best" and may not be reliable for long range forecasting.

While the allocation will produce about 3.6 million barrels of oil a day, the companies want to buy 3.9 million — an increase of 1.167 barrels from August.

Commission member Jim Langdon said oilmen ought to use the monthly allowable hearing as a forum for their problems. Langdon suggested the routine hearing be abandoned if it can't be made meaningful for the industry.

SHORT NOTES

Comptroller Bob Bullock reported his field offices passed their goal of $75 million in tax collections during fiscal 1977, a month before close of the period.

Moderate and conservative Democrats are laying plans already to recapture control of the state party from liberals in 1978.

Atty. Gen. John Hill charged that the Federal Power Commission is trying to take natural gas away from Texans and violating basic property law in the process.

State Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg announced his candidacy for State Agriculture Commissioner and pledged a $500,000 campaign effort against incumbent Reagan Brown in the Democratic primary.

Everett L. Anchutz, executive director of the Texas Employees Retirement System, is winding up a 40-year public service career.

A congressional sub-committee hearing is scheduled in San Antonio September 16 on President Carter's recommendations to cut pay scales of federal blue collar workers eight to 12 per cent.

Q: My husband and I are separated, and our five children live with me. A friend told me that she saw several hundred dollars in checks made out to my husband's girlfriend recorded in his checkbook. Isn't he legally responsible for financially supporting his family first and foremost?

A: This is the kind of thing for which you need some personal legal help. You need to contact a lawyer who will institute court proceedings for temporary alimony and child support. Your lawyer will also help you obtain an order for an inventory and accounting. If you don't know a lawyer, call the Texas Lawyer Referral Service at 1-800-252-9690.

Q: A friend of mine wants to have a will prepared leaving all of his property to their grandchildren and leaving his daughter nothing. Could his daughter break a will like that?

A: In Texas, a person can disinherit any relative, including children, by leaving property to someone else. Grounds for contesting a will include: lack of mental capacity, failure to observe some legal requirement in the execution of the will, or fraud. However, disinheritance alone is not a ground for challenging a will.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

they'd look up from reading Pilgrim's Progress. Kids in those days never wasted a minute.

Before television, kids were smart. Ask any grown-up who grew up without it. Why some of them grew up thinking all U. S. Senators were giants among men. Television has ruined that. You can't hear some of them on your screen sputtering about something they don't know any more about than you, without wondering how they got to be Senators. TV is the worst think that ever happened to politicians.

Furthermore, before television we had no violence to speak of. Oh, what happened to Little Red Riding Hood's grandmother was rather gruesome, but kids in those days knew one wolf could hardly swallow a whole grandmother, whereas today Kojack fools all of them. They have no idea he's shooting blanks.

Electric bills higher?

For many thousands of TP&L customers, air conditioning is the biggest factor in electric bills during the summer and Texas is having one of the hottest summers in several years.

So, if your electric bills are higher, think about the extra work electricity has been doing to help keep you comfortable.

If your home is air-conditioned, you can hold down your electric bill by setting the thermostat on 78° or higher. Clean or replace filters every 30 days and keep draperies and blinds closed.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

HATCH ACT FIGHT HEATS UP

Rep. James Abdnor (S. Dak.)' A (Washington Post) article merits the attention of all Members of the House and Senate. (The condensed article follows):

Why The Hatch Act Is Worth Keeping

By Marjorie G. Fribourg

In a famous White House memo in 1971, John Dean asked, "how can we use the available federal machinery to screw our political enemies." Only the Hatch Act, which spells out that government workers are not to take an active part in campaigns kept the Watergate crowd from being able to use vast numbers of unwilling government workers to go after Nixon's enemies.

The house has passed H.R. 10 knocking down the safeguards in the Act. The Senate is holding hearings on the bill, and while opponents may have blocked action this fall, some union leaders still hope to push the bill through. If they don't succeed, H.R. 10 will be high on the Senate agenda early next year.

Hence, some clear spring evening a platoon of postmen could be coming your neighborhood ringing every doorbell, handing out campaign literature and collecting contributions. Ostensibly they will have volunteered their services and in any case are trying to make sure that their candidate defeats the incumbent congressman who withered dared disagree with the President or dared to fight the demands of a government worker's union.

A rumor has started simultaneously in every federal agency: Promotions will be given to those who go out and canvass for the cause: job descriptions will be reworded after election to match the individuals who helped the party. True, no one may campaign while on duty or in uniform or in a government building and no supervisor may solicit contributions from a subordinate.

What the authors of the bill fail to consider is the coercion may be subtle. You do not have to go after a worker with a club or threaten to have him transferred. All a boss has to do is be visibly more cordial to those who showed up at a fund-raising dinner or rally and the maverick gets the idea.

Obviously, a balance has to be struck between the needs of the workers voluntarily to exercise the rights of citizens and the needs of the government to preserve its integrity. The Hatch Act strikes the balance. Judging from the 150-year struggle required to get it, if we ever lose it, we won't get it back. We had better hold on to it.

CRUMP'S GRASSROOTS COMMENT

President Carter supports the union's drive to rewrite the Hatch Act.

GRAIN THEFTS HIT

Grain thieves are siphoning off $3 million to $5 million worth of grain a year from Texas elevators and feed mill owners, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown claims.

Brown promised a statewide crackdown to stop the thefts. The sorghum harvest is particularly hard, Brown said. The 244.8 million bushel crop is about half harvested.

The commissioner said the crackdown will rely on a special alert system to inform grain elevator operators of suspected theft ring operations in their areas.

A detection program for weights and measures inspectors is also projected to aid in recognizing suspects and spotting movements and activities of theft rings. Finally, said Brown, the Agriculture Department will aid district attorneys in pushing for maximum sentences for convicted thieves.

LEGISLATORS RATED

Texas Conservative Union has rated Texas legislators on the basis of 22 votes in the House and 11 in the Senate.

The group rated as most conservative Reps. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, Bob Davis of Irving, Jim Mankins of Kilgore, Pete Patterson of Brookston and Brad Wright of Houston, Sens. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Grant Jones of Abilene, Walter Mengden of Houston, O. H. Harris of Dallas and Peyton McKnight of Tyler.

At the bottom of the conservative lobbying group's list were Reps. Craig Washington of Houston, Matt Garcia of San Antonio, Hugo Berlanga of Corpus Christi, Smith Gilley of Greenville and Sam Hudson of Dallas, Gene Jones of Houston, Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio, Carl Parker of Port Arthur, Lindon Williams of Houston, A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Ector County Judge Joseph Connolly of Odessa judge of the new 244th district court and H. G. "Pete" Andrews Jr. of Stamford, judge of the new 259th district court for Jones and Shackelford counties.

Briscoe also announced these recent appointments: Shackelford County Judge Quay F. Parker of Albany as 259th district attorney.

Jerome I. Kocian of Hallettsville to the Lavaca County Flood Control District #3.

Dr. Ray Santos of Lubbock to the Texas Board of Health Resources.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe R. Greenhill and Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr. named the new nine-member statewide Texas Adult Probation Commission to draft standards for adult probation office operation.

ALLOWABLE SET

Texas Railroad Commission once more set the September oil allowable at 100 per cent, but that won't equal oil company demands for purchase.

Texas Food and Fiber

by Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner
Texas Department of Agriculture

The Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) has been swamped in recent weeks as we push to keep up our end of the bargain in the upcoming EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) restricted-use pesticide deadline.

The Department has the task of registering both commercial and private pesticide applicators in Texas who will be using any pesticides from the list of restricted-use ingredients which the EPA has promised to release by the October 21 deadline.

We've been working across the state in conjunction with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, training and testing pesticide users who will come under the federal legislation set to go into affect this fall.

According to the law, anyone engaged in raising an agricultural commodity who uses any of the restricted-use pesticides will need to be licensed after October 21 before buying or using the ingredients. We have already registered some 55,000 private applicators across the state and are rushing to mail out a backlog of licenses to those who have passed the testing.

The testing itself includes a general category as well as separate divisions which can be chosen by the applicator covering specific topics such as fruit, nut, and vegetable, and weed and brush control.

County extension agents across the state have been working with private applicators, training and testing them in anticipation of the deadline and they can best answer any private user questions concerning the need to be licensed. Entomologists with our Department's Agricultural and Environmental Sciences Division also stand ready to help anyone who has questions or needs information concerning this national program. Direct any questions to the Texas Department of Agriculture, Agricultural and Environmental Sciences Division, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711 (512-475-6133).

WEIGHT WATCHER--Texas Department of Agriculture Weights and Measures inspectors always have their eyes on the scales. But it's not because they are worried about being overweight. They make sure consumers get packages of the exact weights as they pay for. However, this important function has been hampered recently by a Supreme Court decision, which supports more lenient federal standards.

New Agricultural Newslines Designed to Aid Farmers

AUSTIN--A national newslines is now available to farmers and ranchers who are increasingly in need of a wide variety of reports on agriculture.

The Farmers' Newslines has been set up to provide the latest information on U.S. crops, livestock and farm economics. The tape is updated each day at 3 p.m. Central Daylight Time (CDT) by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The toll-free phone number to call is 800-424-7964.

"This newslines is indicative of the demand today for immediate information on agricultural topics," Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown commented. "Wild fluctuations in the market have forced farmers and ranchers to become more conscious of the need to use every strategic tool available to decide which crop to grow and how many acres to invest in."

The Texas Department of Agriculture's news service, started several years ago, updates market information daily on major Texas commodities on a system of automatic telephone answering devices around the state. "Ours are not toll-free, however," Brown said.

For long-range planning, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service issues a number of statistical reports regularly on production and farm economics. The Service has been handling the job of supplying agricultural statistics for over a century. In 1967 the Texas Department of Agriculture joined with the Statistical Reporting Service of the USDA to make the program a cooperative program.

Because producers and customers of Texas agriculture depend on these reports, accuracy and objectivity are the major guidelines in compiling the statistics. Wilbert H. Walther, statistician in charge of the Texas operation, stressed that this is also the basis for allotments and other programs of the USDA.

"Most of the raw data for our estimates comes from the long-standing program of mail surveys in which we send our questionnaires to a randomly selected sample of farmers and ranchers," Walther stated.

"We could not function in Texas without the cooperation of so many producers who voluntarily provide the input for estimates."

Walther stressed that all questionnaires returned in the surveys are confidential and used only in county, state, and national summaries. No one except the office staff working on the surveys has access to the information on the farmer's individual questionnaire.

All reports are available without charge. For a list of releases, write P.O. Box 70, Austin, TX 78767.

While only 420,000 individuals work directly on Texas farms and ranches, roughly 25 per cent or four out of every ten persons in the state owe their jobs either directly or indirectly to agriculture and agribusiness, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Texas has over 1,500 manufacturing plants for processing food and kindred products, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Rainfall Outlook Should Improve

Texas farmers and ranchers can look forward to some improvement in the rainfall situation during the next 30 days, if the National Weather Service is right in its predictions.

Most of the state should get some relieve from the extended dry weather, say NWS officials. They are calling for above average rainfall in all regions through the middle of September.

At the same time, temperatures should remain normal, which means a continuation of generally warm weather. Of course, some relief from the summer heat wave that has plagued much of the state should begin to show up by the first of September as cold fronts start winding their way down from the northern part of the nation.

The possibility of increased precipitation during the next 30 days should brighten the ranching picture considerably, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Most pastures and ranges are brown and the grass is dry and of poor quality.

Supplemental feeding has begun in many counties due to the lack of grazing. Also, stock water is short over much of the state, and some ranchers have resorted to hauling water for their livestock.

Rain in the next few weeks would also boost hay production which has been extremely short this spring and summer, notes the Extension Service. Yields are off as much as 50 per cent in some sections of East Texas.

There is a growing concern about adequate hay for this winter due to the short crop and the fact that hay barns were emptied during last winter's severe weather.

Peanuts, soybeans, fall planted small grains, fall gardens and commercial vegetable crops would also benefit from the rainfall, said the Extension Service.

Of course, the increased precipitation would delay harvest operations, especially cotton harvesting in southern, central and eastern areas, and grain harvesting in the Plains.

Growth Implant, Winter Pasture Meeting Set

A meeting on implant growth stimulants for growing and finishing cattle, and winter pasture programs will be held in Gause at the Community Center on September 2, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. John Spitzer, area beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will give a program on utilizing growth implants for growing cattle.

Dr. J. N. Pratt, pasture specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will give a program on winter pastures which will include all areas of winter pasture production and management practices.

All interested beef cattle producers in Milam County are invited to attend this meeting.

Changes Told In Storage Loan Program

With the Texas grain harvest in full swing, farmers might be interested in an easier farm loan program for grain storage facilities that has been established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"The loan program is designed to help farmers buy and construct on-farm storage units. One of the first considerations in the loan program was the need for grain storage facilities on the farm," says Wayne Hayenga and Roland Smith, economists with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

The new program provides for a two-year production level as the base to determine storage needs. Previously, the base was one year's production.

"The loan ceiling has been raised to a total of $50,000 per applicant, with the county ASCS (Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service) committee being able to approve a loan up to $25,000," add the economists. "Higher loans usually require state ASCS committee approval."

The down payment for loans has dropped from 30 to 15 per cent with no exclusions. Concrete and electrical work was previously excluded from down payment considerations.

"Interest rates have dropped from 7.5 to 7 per cent for the term of the loan. But this rate is subject to change by the Secretary of Agriculture," note Hayenga and Smith. "However, the interest rate will not be subject to a semi-annual review for change based on cost of money to the government. This means that the interest rate will not change for the duration of the loans."

Should producers elect to use on-farm storage for their grain crop, they will want to follow accepted practices for maintaining the quality of the stored grain, add Hayenga and Smith.

More detailed information on the loan program can be obtained at any county ASCS office.

Cotton News Available By Telephone

Cotton growers in Central Texas, and others concerned with cotton prices and marketing trends, can secure this information, 24 hours a day, merely by dialing a Waco telephone number -- AC 817/752-0443.

The service, provided jointly by the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) and the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS), is the third such facility in Texas.

The "instant market news" service in Waco will be updated each day by Don Dyer of AMS's Dallas cotton classing office. Each 3-minute recorded report will provide information on market activity, including supply, demand and both spot and futures prices; harvest activity, and crop and weather information.

It also will include cottonseed prices, volume and quality of cotton classed in Austin, and timely information from other major national and international cotton markets.

Farm Product Price Drop Keeps Pressure on Farmers

AUSTIN--Texas farmers, caught in the grip of rising inflation rates and declining farm product prices, were squeezed a little harder last month, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

Brown said that figures just released from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service show that the All Farm Products Index for the survey month ending July 15 decreased one point. The index measures average prices received by farmers for their products.

"Meat animals, poultry and eggs were bringing higher prices on the average," said Brown, "but these small gains were more than offset by lower prices for most crops."

The figures show that crop prices on the average dropped five per cent since mid-June, contributing to a decrease of 21 points on the All Crops Index. Slight increases were recorded for wheat and alfalfa hay, however. Livestock showed an average price increase of five per cent.

Grain sorghum, which remains well below last year's prices, was the hardest hit. Average price per hundred weight (cwt.) dropped 25 cents, from $3.26 to $3.01. Corn was also down, from $2.13 per bushel on June 15 to $1.98 on July 15.

KNOW YOUR FOOD

MILK GROUP

Many of today's diets are low in calcium because we don't use enough calcium-rich foods, such as milk and cheese, in our diets. Growing children need calcium to build bones and teeth, especially during teen years, when children are growing fast.

Adults, too, need calcium even though they're not building bones and teeth. Each day, adults lose some calcium and must replace it. Calcium helps clot blood when you cut or injure yourself; it helps keep all your muscles in good shape so they can work for you... especially the heart muscles.

Milk is our leading source of calcium. It also provides high-quality protein, riboflavin, vitamin A (if milk is whole or fortified), and other nutrients. Protein in milk builds and repairs body tissues, helps the body fight infection, and supplies energy. Eight ounces of fresh whole milk has about 160 calories; the same amount of skim milk has only 90 calories.

Fluids Included in the Milk Group: Milk: fluid whole, evaporated, skim, dry, buttermilk. Cheese: cottage, cream, cheddar type, natural or processed. Ice cream. Yogurt.

Recommended Amounts: Some milk daily is urged for almost everyone. Recommended amounts in terms of 8-ounce cups (or glasses) of whole fluid milk are: children under 9, 2-3 cups; children 9-12, 3 or more cups; teenagers, 4 or more cups; adults, 2 or more cups; pregnant women, 3 or more; nursing mothers, 4 or more. Part of all the milk may be fluid skim milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk or dry milk.

Cheese, ice cream and yogurt can be used in place of part of the milk. The amount of any of these it will take to replace a given amount of milk is figured on the basis of calcium content. On this basis, examples are: 1-inch cube cheddar-type cheese equals 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup cottage cheese equals 1/2 cup milk; 2 tablespoons cream cheese equals 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup ice cream equals 1/2 cup milk; 1 cup plain yogurt equals 1 cup milk; 1 cup fruit-flavored yogurt equals 1/2 cup milk.

4-H Notes

By Joseph D. Janak Jr.

4-H, the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers exciting projects and activities for every young person up to the age of 19 who has a curious desire to learn. 4-H encourages learning by doing and provides citizenship and leadership skills. 4-H wants to involve youth - rural, urban, suburban, teens and pre-teens from all races, creeds, ethnic and economic backgrounds. 4-H youth learn work, and play together. In 4-H, young people can learn how to make things, grow things, take care of things, and repair things in a wide variety of projects.

And the great part about the whole program is that 4-H youth can select what they want to do. Projects include things such as nature study, wildlife, entomology, animal science, beef cattle, horse and pony, dog care, plant science, gardening, field crops, home economics, food and nutrition, clothing, automotive, bicycle, small engines, mechanics, electricity, personal development, citizenship, leadership, and public speaking. 4-H has a lot to offer. So if you want to get involved in an action - oriented program, get involved in your local 4-H Club. Adult and teen leaders from all areas of Texas will have an opportunity to receive special training at the Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood on September 17 and 18. Weekend workshop training sessions will include 4-H Club Management, 4-H Officer Duties, 4-H Bicycle Projects, and a general session on Promotional Ideas for National 4-H Week.

All adult and youth leaders from Milam County 4-H clubs and project groups are welcome to participate. Travel reimbursements are available for those who provide transportation to the Texas 4-H Center.

For additional details and registration forms, come by the county extension office located in the courthouse or call Janak at 697-6949.

The entry deadline for the 1977 Fall livestock shows is September 1. If you are interested in entering any class, contact me at the County Extension Office.

Methodist Church News

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be ob-served at the worship ser-vices at the Maysfield and First United Methodist Ch-urches of Cameron this Sun-day.

The Labor Day theme will be emphasized and the scrip-ture lesson will be read from John 6:25-29. Mrs. Tommy Corley will direct the choir in its anthem with Mrs. Hil-lard Thomas at the organ.

Rev. Stanley Vodicka Jr. will conduct the worship ser-vices at both churches.

The children's choir will meet on Thursday at 2 p.m. for a rehearsal and the youth choir meets at 9:45 on Sun-day morning. Jesse White is directing the children's and youth choirs.

Promotion Sunday and Ral-ly Day will be observed on Sept. 11 in the church sch-ool. Each class will want to set an attendance goal for this Sunday so that all mem-bers of the church school can be present for the im-portant Promotion Day pro-gram.

A district missions work-shop will be held in Hearne on Sept. 12 from 7-9 p.m.

The annual United Youth Fellowship SMU football gam-e will be held in Dallas on Sept. 24 when SMU will play Tulane at the Cotton Bowl at 7:30 p.m.

Little River Cemetery Association To Meet

The 54th annual reunion of the Little River Cemetery Association will be held on Sunday, Sept. 4, starting at 10:30 a.m. at the Little River Baptist Church at Jones Prairie.

Rev. Thomas Dusek will be the speaker and dinner will be served on the grounds at noon.

Ministers To Meet

The Cameron Ministerial Alliance will meet on Tues-day, Septmber 6 at 11 a.m. at St. Edward Hospital li-brary.

Malnourishment May Exist in Midst of Plenty

AUSTIN—Did you know your child could be malnourished, even though he never goes to bed hungry?

"It is disheartening to note the alarming number of children who are malnourished in this country not because they don't eat, but because they don't eat the right things," Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown states.

"With our abundance of good quality food there is no reason for malnutrition of any type," he continues.

Brown warns parents that without a properly balanced diet, children may be affected during important growth years. In addition, he says, they may pick up bad eating habits which they will carry with them the rest of their lives.

Brown said the Texas Department of Agriculture, along with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will place nutritional education at the top of its priority list during the next year.

The first automatic match-making machine was patented in 1851.

Misty View

When you look through the window on a rainy day everything beyond the pane seems blurred in wavy wetness. Even the familiar objects, like the sidewalk and the mailbox seem distorted.

Sometimes the same thing can happen with another kind of view — when we look at ourselves, trying to find meaning and perspective in our own lives. For there are moments when we are at odds with the world and the ones we love, when we don't know where to turn next.

Well — how about turning to the Church? Just go to church, even if you haven't gone for a long time, even if you've never gone, for that matter. Sit back and relax, and let yourself and your problems swing back into focus, there within God's House.

Funny thing about it . . . it works.

Mass Unites Collins-Halfmann Saturday

Cathy Gail Collins of Ben Arnold and Kenneth John Halfmann of Burlington were united in a double ring ceremony, August 27 at St. Luke's Catholic Church in Temple.

The Rev. Curtis Halfmann of Lubbock and Rev. Edward Jordan of Temple officiated the double-ring ceremony. Providing music were Mrs. Martha Crenan of Burlington and Rudy Rodriguez of San Antonio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy F. Collins of Ben Arnold. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Halfmann of Burlington.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight crepe d' chine. Seed pearls etched the balero effect of the alencon bodice. Re-embroidered lace motifs graced the controlled skirt framed in lace scallops. From a camelot cap of lace, bridal illusion veiled her chapel train. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and ivory gardenias.

Matron of honor was Debbie Buckholt of Westphalia. Bridesmaids were Nan Gear of Temple, Jane Lange of Austin and Patricia Wieser of Cameron. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids wore empire waist dresses made of powder blue jersey with a cape of layered effect of lettuce leaf ruffle. They carried a bouquet of yellow daisies and baby's breath.

Best man was Roy Buckholt of Westphalia. Groomsmen were Jim Crenan of Burlington, Jimmy Halfmann of Burlington, and Craig Collins, brother of the bride, of Ben Arnold.

Flower girl was Patricia Green of Temple. Ushers were Bill Vogel-sang of Ben Arnold, Larry Reinders of Ben Arnold, David Herzog of Westphalia, and Mark Olbrich of Clifton. Servers were Roy and Mike Halfmann, brothers of the groom.

After the wedding, a barbeque dinner and wedding dance was held at Flag Hall.

The bride's table consisted of a traditional wedding cake that carried out the bride's colors of baby blue, yellow and ivory.

Registering guests were Debbie Olbrich of Clifton and Jean Rabroker of Westphalia. Houseparty members were Billie Green of Temple, Connie Curry of Belton, Mr. and Mrs. Waymond Gerza of Ben Arnold, Kandy Schafer of New Braunfels, Mrs. Anton Reinders of Ben Arnold, Barbara Lange and Julie Adecock of Austin, Mrs. Roman Roessler of Rosebud, Mrs. Leo Helpert of Burlington and Patsy Herzog and Sandra Hoelscher of Westphalia.

The bride is a graduate of Yoe High School. She is employed with Scott and White in Temple. The groom is a graduate of Rosebud-Lott High School and Temple Junior College. He is now employed with National Building Center in Temple.

After a wedding trip to the Texas Coast and Mexico, the couple will live in Seaton.

The parents of the bride and groom were host for a rehearsal dinner at St. Luke's Parish Hall in Temple.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Miller attended a funeral in Brenham Sunday, for Mrs. Emmy Lou Bauer Dalburg of Houston. She was the sister of Mrs. J. W. (Bud) Harris of Houston. Mrs. Harris, Billie and Laquita Harris, were dinner guests of the Millers last Friday.

Those that attended the Shelton and Brown wedding, supper, and dance Saturday at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Waco from Cameron were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Turner Jr. and daughter, Sarah Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Richter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sheguit and son, Kenneth Steven, and Mr. and Mrs. George Schneider and children Marita Diane, Edward Allen and Angela Kay.

MRS. ALVAH BROWN

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED - Mr. and Mrs. David Krenak Sr., of Cameron announce the engagement of their daughter, Renee Ann Krenak to Jerry Kenneth Mueck. A wedding is planned for November 5 at St. Monica's Church.

Nuptials Read For Couple

Karon Gail Shelton of Waco became the bride of Alvah Dwan Brown of Waco, Saturday, August 27 at St. Mary Church of the Assumption.

The Msgr. Edward Rabroker officiated the ceremony. The music was furnished by Mrs. Jerry Kucena from West and David Dunham, vocalist of Waco.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Damon Dorris of Waco. The groom is the son of Mrs. Sandra Steele of Waco and Mr. W. D. Brown Jr. of Lorena.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Krull of Cameron. Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holmes of Waco and Mr. Doyle Brown of Hubbard.

Given in marriage by her step-father the bride wore an organza gown fashioned in Empire style. The sheer yoke and high neckline was trimmed with imported chantilly lace and flounced ruffle of the organza. The long pointed fitted sleeves were made of the chantilly lace. The full flared skirt bordered at the hem with the lace and flounce formed a deep scallop on the chapel length train. A three tier veil edged in matching lace fell from a lace Juliet cap. She carried a free form cascade of white and yellow french-feathered carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ross McCallum, the bride's sister, of Waco. She wore a yellow dotted swiss sun dress with a matching cape and yellow picture hat, and carried a long stem yellow carnation with greenery. Bridesmaids were Miss Shira Brown, the groom's sister, Miss Beth McKeown and Miss Dorothy Coffey. The bridesmaids wore yellow dotted swiss sun dresses with a matching cape and carried a long stem yellow carnation.

Best man was Billy Lee Azbell Jr. of Waco. Groomsmen were C. R. Johnson of Waco, Ricky Barlow of Waco, and Mike Arnold of Columbus. Ushers were Ross McCallum of Waco and Doug Dickerson also of Waco.

Flower girls were Shanna Dorris, sister of the bride and Denise (Missy) McCallum. Chris Dorris brother of the bride was the ring bearer. Candle lighters were Kenny Joe Shelton and Calvin Lloyd Shelton.

After the wedding, a reception was held at V. F. W. Hall in Waco.

Houseparty members were Virgie Fort, Diane Huffman, Becki Sanez and Paula Kelly of Waco.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of University High School. The groom is a 1974 graduate of University High School.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will live in East Benard.

AAA Urges Caution For School Children

"School's Open -- Drive Carefully" is a motto motorists should bear in mind this fall as children return to school. In its annual "School's Open" safety campaign, the American Automobile association, Texas Division reminds Texas motorists that children returning to school may introduce traffic hazards drivers must be alert to. AAA offers the following safety advice to parents and motorists:

- Review pedestrian safety rules with children before they go back to school -- especially the very young who are going to school for the first time. The dangers of playing at bus stops and darting between parked cars should be pointed out.
- If possible, don't drive children to school. Increased traffic around schools contributes to congestion and can lead to mishaps.

Terms Of Hunting Leases Should Be Put In Writing

Like everything else in the world, the price of hunting leases climbs each year. And yet, demand is still increasing and many hunters are willing to pay more for the right to hunt on another's land.

With higher prices it's in the best interest of both hunter and landowner to set down in writing exact terms of the lease.

A hunting lease is an agreement between landowner and hunter whereby the right to trespass to hunt on a specified piece of property is granted for a certain time and fee.

Generally there are four different types of lease agreements: year-round, season, day-hunting and hunts which guarantee a kill.

Year-round leases usually include hunting privileges for all legal species and often have camping and fishing rights during off seasons. These leases are made by a small group of hunters.

Leases of limited duration vary from an entire season to one week within a season.

Day hunting accommodates large numbers of hunters and is most useful in areas which can stand high hunting pressure.

Guaranteed hunts usually specialize in exotic game and may include native species.

Whatever the lease it should state in writing what is leased with the name and address of the landowner or his authorized agent. A description of the tract, size and boundaries should be included. Maps are helpful.

A hunting lease should spell out payments, terms and deadlines for payment.

In detail, the lease should specify number of hunters allowed on the property, and in some cases the names of hunters. The landowner may wish to reserve some hunting privileges for his family or friends. This should be in the agreement.

Be sure to spell out any provisions if hunting is limited to certain species, or if the bag is restricted to less than that of the current laws.

In some instances, such as year-round leases, the landowner may furnish extras such as cabins, utilities, vehicles, hunting blinds or guides. This should be in the contract.

A written lease when properly acknowledged can be recorded in the county records and is binding on the landowner should he decide to sell his property.

Bentsen Asks For Drug Strike Force

Senator Lloyd Bentsen proposed Wednesday that the Justice Department establish a drug strike force, similar to the strike forces used against organized crime, to combat drug smuggling across the Mexican border.

Bentsen asked Attorney General Griffin Bell to consider this approach. "As you know, drug abuse ranks fourth as a cause of death among American men ages 18-24, and is a major contributing cause of violent street crime, as well as a source of great profit or organized crime," the Senator said in a letter to the Attorney General.

"A high proportion of dangerous drugs used in this country enter across the Mexican border. It has been estimated, for example, that every year some four to seven tons of heroin enter across this border alone."

"I believe that a major strike force effort could increase the effectiveness of law enforcement in dealing with the very serious drug problem. By employing the methodology of organized crime strike forces, it would allow greater consolidation and targeting of resources," Bentsen said.

Under the strike force concept the efforts of different federal agencies -- such as the Drug Enforcement Administration, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Internal Revenue Service, the Customs Service and the Immigration and Naturalization Service -- are coordinated against a target group or group of targets under the direction of a prosecutor.

"This approach is particularly suited to the special problems involved in combating drug smuggling along the border area. The Texas-Mexican border alone includes 14 counties stretching over 850 miles," Bentsen said.

"A well organized strike force could help ferret out illegal drug traffic and combat this serious national problem. I am encouraged by the President's leadership effort to end the fragmentation that all too often hampers drug enforcement efforts. I would urge your serious consideration of the strike force proposal," Senator Bentsen said.

Westfest Set For Labor Day Weekend

WEST

The end of summer brings Labor Day weekend and joy, merriment and celebration in abundance to the small farming community of West. Labor Day weekend in West is WESTFEST, a two day Czech festival which attracted over 40,000 persons at its 1976 debut.

West, a predominately Czech community in Central Texas, boasts its heritage year 'round to the travelers along Interstate 35 with Czech bakeries, meat markets and restaurants. One is very likely to hear the Czech language spoken by the locals in almost any business establishment.

Most of the 2500 residents of West don brightly colored Czech costumes for the weekend of Westfest and participate in the festival dancing, drinking pivo (beer) and operating food concessions. Scores of artists and craftsmen display and sell their works along with a selection of novelties from the "old country" (Czechoslovakia).

Children with rainbow rimmed diapers toddle among the crowds with their parents, munching Czech sausage on a stick, kolaches (fruit filled pastries) or some of the many other mouth-watering foods offered at the many concessions.

Westfest grounds open at 11 a.m. both days of the September 3-4 festival. The festival site is located one mile south of West on Main Street at the West Fair and Rodeo Grounds. Downtown parking is advised, as parking is limited on the festival grounds. On ground parking is $1 per vehicle.

Admission is adults $2, children $1 and the admission entitles one to all entertainment, dances and exhibits within the festival grounds. Free shuttle bus service is offered to and from the downtown area.

GOP Women Announce Plans For Convention

Anne Bergman of Weatherford, president of the Texas Federation of Republican Women (TFRW), announced that the group will hold its eleventh biennial convention in Brownsville on November 11-12. One of the largest political organizations in Texas, the TFRW has approximately 5,500 members organized into 132 clubs throughout the state.

"Principal guests and speakers who have already accepted for the convention are United States Senator John Tower and former Director of Central Intelligence George Bush," Bergman stated.

Convention activities will include the election of new officers as well as district directors for 1977-79, the honoring of the ten outstanding Republican women in Texas and the designation of outstanding member clubs. Delegates will also vote on federation bylaw amendments and adopt resolutions dealing with the federation's political philosophy going into the 1978 election year.

More than 500 delegates and alternates are expected for the two-day meeting in Texas' southernmost resort city. Mrs. Darrell Hemphill of Brownsville is serving as local convention chairman.
